EMMA STENHOUSE

TITLE
JOURNEY WOMAN

REGION
NGARRINDJERI

Emma Stenhouse is a proud Ngarrindjeri woman and a contemporary indigenous artist on a journey of self discovery, deepening her connection with her family, exploring her heritage, and inspired by her love of Country. Emma encapsulates her knowledge in her storyworks formed by her deep relationship to land and guided by strong female role models in her community.

This woman walks her own path. She is the protector of her family and the healer of many. Her travels take her to many parts of the country where she brings a sense of calm with her caring nature. Whilst she continues to care and nourish others on her journey she is replenished by the Ocean.

Many hours are spent in the Ocean being cleansed, vulnerable to the waves and currents. This is her freedom, her spiritual home. She is of the sea and takes it into her heart. No matter how far she journeys, it always calls her back.
