TITLE
SEA URCHIN

REGION
NGARRINDJERI

Emma Stenhouse is a proud Ngarrindjeri woman and a contemporary indigenous artist on a journey of self discovery, deepening her connection with her family, exploring her heritage, and inspired by her love of Country. Emma encapsulates her knowledge in her storyworks formed by her deep relationship to land and guided by strong female role models in her community.

Sitting gently on the ocean floor the little test remains, the spikes of the sea urchin have fallen off and been swept away by the currents. The soft purple colours, are captivating as the sea urchin is washed ashore, a new treasure to gather and admire.
